

SENIORS

RICHARD DOBSON

Mac Dobson's a quite clever child,
 Though in Latin he sometimes runs
 wild;
 But he shines like a star
 If viewed from afar;
 Of tempers he has the most mild.

GLADYS LINFOOT

A musician is this merry lass,
 Who always obtains a safe pass;
 Of driving she's fond,
 And in math, we'll go bond,
 She will aid to distinguish the class.

BEATRICE BOUTILLIER

Of all the nice girls you could see,
 You'll be more than quite sure to like Bee;
 Her voice is like honey,
 What she says is so funny,
 She makes you go har, har! tee, hee!

HAZEL PATTERSON

When everything seems to provoke
 And you wish you had someone to soak,
 And nothing goes well,
 Just go to Hazel,
 For she'll soon turn it into a joke.

FRANCIS AUSTEN

A designer some day he will be,
 For, far from being put in class E,
 He leads the whole school
 With pencil and rule
 In art work for you and for me.

DAVID SHEPPARD

Oh, David's a quite clever kid,
 He has brains that can never be hid;
 He tries not to show it,
 But you're quite sure to know it,
 Though he carries them under his lid.
