

WILLIAM GOLD

Bill Gold is a boy with a brain;
 His speech is at times very plain;
 As head of the lit.
 He makes quite a bit,
 But his attempts at attendance are vain.

GLADYS OLIVER

All hail to the young gypsy rover,
 If she smiles at you, you'll be in clover.
 She can dance, she can sing,
 She can do anything,
 And her standing is honors or over.

MARION BUSHBY

This maiden is modest and shy,
 She thinks trigonometry's dry;
 But history and lit.
 She minds not a bit,
 And Marion's marks are all high.

WILFRID GORDON

Too cautious e'er to blunder,
 He'll yet set the world to wonder,
 In coming days
 All folks will praise
 His fiery pulpit thunder.

YNGVE ANDERSON

Yngve seems to know all that's worth knowing;
 Good examples on each hand he's sowing.
 When a century's o'er,
 A sign on his door
 Will show that his fame has been growing.

BRUCE HOGG

At biology Bruce is a bear,
 With huge knife he slashes the air,
 Strange to say, he is one
 Full of science and fun.
 Who in all his young life has no care.

EDITH PATMORE

She is jolly and serious too,
 With a heart that is trustful and true;
 A sweet girlish face,
 Undeniable grace;
 There is not very much she can't do.

MARJORIE BRADFORD

Marjorie believes in mixed action;
 Her work always gives satisfaction.
 In sport she's right there,
 While her genius is rare,
 Which proves she's the room's big attraction.
