

John Ng acquired his education in 5 different institutions before attending Nutana. John plans to attend university after graduation.

David Nielsen. What can we say? Eaton's, scuba diving, Leo's and skiing . . . not to mention good old "hell raising". Good luck in Basketball, Snake!

Kirsten Nostbakken appeared around Nutana in many forms: cheerleader, librarian, SRC member, etc. . . etc. . . She taught Sunday School and her future plans include Camrose College in Alberta and a degree in Education. Beware the demon Elemenio!

Lori Novakovski was Nutana's star figure skater. She came to us from Melville and finished her grade 12 here in the 1st semester this year. Lori only seems quiet . . .

Darrel Olbort was an interform curler, a hamburger maker, a Grand Torino driver, but most of all . . . a fantastic bowler.

Rick Orchard. We cannot tell a lie . . . Rick was completely and utterly insane. He was active in Grad Fundraising, the N.C. Eye and the Hermes (photography) and he loves money. What else Rick does is anyone's guess. He will probably take over the world with a giant frisbee.

Claude Ouellet was on the Nutana Rollerball team which went all the way to the championships in Atlantis. Claude could usually be found hanging around Nutana with Grace Hession's brother.

Brian Paetsch was involved in secret work (part time). His attendance at Nutana was a mere front, his cover being that of a Sr. Boys' Fastball pitcher.

Paul Pang was one of our illustrious ping-pong players and a happy-go-lucky personality around Nutana. Paul plans to enter Arts and Science at the U. of S.

Dave Pascoe was back at Nutana again this year (we wonder shy?). Among Dave's several interests are scuba diving, life guarding and trying to graduate successfully. He also drives a mean tow truck.

Penny Pepper belonged to the famed grade 12 Girls' Softball team. She was involved in Lit Nite, Band (Pied Pepper) and Grad Fund Raising. Penny looks forward to becoming a street bum sometime in the future.

Darlene Ranger enjoys baseball, volleyball, golf, skating and horseback riding. She is presently working part time at Woolworths and hopes to continue her education next year.

Gordon Benny enjoys racing, shooting, mechanics, model building and some photography. Flash plans to attend Kelsey next year.

Laura Romph was involved in volleyball and basketball and her help was much appreciated in the coatcheck at dances. She enjoys babysitting and plans to continue her education.
