

HERMES HUOMOR

NUTANA COLLEGIATE 1941-1945

---

The spaces between class pictures and committee reports in the annual Hermes Yearbook were filled with odd bits of funny news and student jokes. They may have been original stories or perhaps they were culled from Readers Digest or other sources of humour. In any case, they added a bit of levity in serious times and were targeted at students that seemed to suit the joke theme. Here are a few examples of 1941-1945 “Hermes Humour”.

Jack: I want a ticket to New York.
Agent: Do you want to go by Buffalo?
Jack: No thanks. I'll take the train.

George: I wanted to dance with you in the worst way.
Audrey: Well, you just did!

---

Betty: What are you thinking about.
Bob: Same as you.
Betty: Try it and I'll scream!

Mr. Wilson: Are you teaching this class?
Ralph: No Sir.
Mr. Wilson: Then stop acting like a fool.

---

Alice: I'm only 16 and I stayed out last night until 2 am. Mom was mad.
Did I do anything wrong?
Teacher: Try to remember.

Miss Blewett: Bucky your description of a dog is exactly the same as the story Doreen wrote.
Bucky: It was the same dog.

---

1st man: Let me present my wife to you.
2nd man: No thanks. I already have one.

Girl: I'm so pleased to meet you.
Bill White: Well, naturally.

---

Judge: It is said you don't get on well
with your husband.
Wife: Nonsense. After I shot him we've been getting on really well.

Russell: If you think the Pharaoh is ugly just wait 'til you see his Mummy.
